

Monday, 02 October de 2017

The Chair of Education and Intangible Heritage of the Pyrenees presents two communications in the X International Symposium on Trans-Pyrenean Studies

On September 29th and 30th, the X International Symposium on Trans-Pyrenean Studies [

<https://drive.google.com/file/d/0BwUmHisp-BqbcIBqcXJ4RTlpTjg/view>] was held in the town of Queralbs (Ripollès). The use of natural resources in the Pyrenees was the central theme of the conference. The Chair presented the papers: "Falles, Haros and Brandons: From the recognition of UNESCO to the safeguard" and "The House of the Bears of the Pyrenees, a vehicle for the environmental education of the future", which are the result of two of the main lines of action that the Chair develops.

The colloquium served to analyze the social, economic and cultural dynamics of the Pyrenees and establish links for future collaborations between the Chair and other institutions or members of the community.